

A BOUNTIFUL COUNTY: A GUIDE TO LOCAL PRODUCERS

A big part of the Land Trust's work is to conserve farmland and ranch land to preserve our local food sources. Agriculture is the number one contributor to Santa Barbara County's economy, grossing billions of dollars annually and nourishing locals and people across the globe. Keeping these working landscapes productive is essential for all of us.

Get to know the farmers, ranchers, and producers feeding our communities and supporting our local economy!

LOCAL FARM STANDS, MARKETS, AND PRODUCERS

Orcutt Certified Farmers Market, Santa Maria

www.facebook.com/orcuttcertifiedfarmersmarket/

Fresh, local produce, artisanal breads and baked goods, handmade caramels, and other products are available Tuesdays at the market.

Blosser Urban Garden, Santa Maria

www.blosserurbangarden.com/farmstand

Offering weekly CSA boxes for free home delivery or pick up as well as a farm stand with organic produce, organic coffee beans, fresh bread, and honey on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays.

Campbell Ranches Produce Stand, Lompoc

www.facebook.com/campbellranchesproducestand

Get seasonal strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, radishes, beets, greens, and more at this family owned and operated stand.

Rancho San Julian, Lompoc

www.theranchtable.com/store

A family owned and operated ranch offering a variety of beef boxes featuring the ranch's signature steaks and ground beef, sausages, beef, and sausages as well as honey and hand-crafted home goods available in their online store.

Finley Farms, Santa Ynez

www.facebook.com/Finley-Farms-161984780560293

A certified organic farm in Santa Ynez Valley selling organic berries, vegetables, fruit, and flowers at their farm stand daily and at four farmers markets from Hollywood to San Luis Obispo each week.

Something Good Organics, Buellton

www.somethinggoodorganics.com

The farm stand is open every Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday, stocked with squash, melons, greens, herbs, and other certified organic fruits and veggies, along with hand poured candles, local honey, fresh bread, and duck eggs. They also offer a CSA with home delivery and pick-up options.

Folded Hills Farmstead, Gaviota

www.foldedhills.com/the-farmstead

Offering natural wine tastings in a beautiful setting just a few minutes from Nojoqui Falls Park, Folded Hills also has a farm animal petting zoo and a farm stand with organic produce and local goods located just off Highway 101.

Santa Barbara Blueberries U-Pick at Restoration Oaks Ranch, Gaviota

www.santabarabarblueberries.com/u-pick

Offering seasonal you-pick blueberries, blackberries, and raspberries, plus a small stand selling Rori's Artisanal Creamery blueberry ice cream made exclusively for Santa Barbara Blueberries. Restoration Oaks Ranch sells grass-fed beef.

Fairview Gardens, Goleta

www.fairviewgardens.org/farmstand

A community agricultural education center offering a CSA program and certified organic produce, and locally sourced pantry items such as olive oil, bread, honey, dried peas and beans at their farm stand. They also host special events and educational programming.

Lane Farms, Noleta

www.lanefarmssb.com/produce-stand

Home grown fruits, vegetables, flowers, and other locally sourced produce are available seven days a week at this 80-year-old farm.

Santa Barbara Farmer's Market, Solvang, Goleta, Santa Barbara, Montecito, Carpinteria

www.sbfarmersmarket.org

Get fresh local produce, baked goods, soaps, olive oil, flowers and potted plants, as well as meat, eggs, dairy, and wine throughout the week and throughout Santa Barbara County at these beloved markets.

Farm Cart Organics, Carpinteria

www.farmcartorganics.com

Offering a full range of organic produce and groceries for CSA home delivery or pick up as well as at their farm stand. Featuring produce and other grocery items from local food producers.

Cuyama Lamb, Ojai

www.cuyamalamb.com

Cuyama Lamb graze their sheep herds at various properties (like Arroyo Hondo Preserve) and sites for wildfire risk mitigation, integrated crop management, and ecological restoration. They sell lamb meat and wool and also offer opportunities to learn more about shepherding.